

TWO SENATORS ASK TAX TO BE LIFTED OF LUMBER BARON

Bacon and Kenyon Plead for Man Convicted of Peonage.

An appeal was made to the President today by Senators Kenyon of Iowa and Bacon of Georgia for the remittance of the $5,000 fine assessed against W. S. Harlan, of Audubon, Iowa, the big lumber magnate, who was convicted in the Federal court of Florida on a peonage charge.

Harlan is now serving his prison sentence, and this will expire in a few weeks. His fortune is gone, it was said by the Senators, and the Executive was asked to give him his freedom, notwithstanding the fine, when the prison term expires.

Three invitations were received at the White House today. One came from the American Society of Criminals, which meets in Denver; another from the American Institute of Criminal Law and Criminology, which meets in Boston, and the third from the International Farming Convention, to be held in Springfield, Ill. These invitations were declined.

C. Collier, director-general of the Panama-California Exposition at San Diego, and Senator Works of that State, today saw the President and received his promise to open the ground breaking ceremonies of the exposition on July 19. The President will press the button at the White House which will unfurl on the grand stand at San Diego the United States flag, the President's flag, the Bear flag, and the twenty-one Latin American flags. This will be the signal for the first spade full of dirt to turn. State Senator Miguel Estudillo was also in the party which called at the White House.

Representative McCall, of Massachusetts, who called on the President this morning said again that he had received no offer of the presidency of Princeton University, whether formal or informal.

A petition for the pardon of J. S. Shaw, a Kentuckian now serving a year's prison sentence for office frauds, was made to the President today by Representative Sherley of Kentucky. Shaw is paralyzed and wants to go to his home in Louisville to die.

Wealthy Friends Will Aid Stokes' Assaults

NEW YORK, June 10.—Developments will probably come rapidly Monday morning in the case of William L. Stokes, when Lillian Graham and Ethel Conrad will be rearranged on the charge of shooting with intent to kill W. E. D. Stokes, the millionaire owner of the Hotel Ansonia.

A number of rich men have indicated their willingness to go bail for the girls and to see that they are represented by counsel. For fear that Stokes may die in the case, the girls are being urged to bring a counter charge of felonious assault against him, as they charge him with attacking them in their apartments in the Varuna when he called ostensibly to obtain possession of letters which he had written to Miss Graham.

Whether this effort to force a trial is due to the desire to hear the expected sensational developments, or to the belief that Stokes is persecuting the girls, one of whom, Miss Conrad, is only eighteen, is not known. The fact remains that Stokes' friends, who are wealthy, are being urged to bring a counter charge of felonious assault against him, as they charge him with attacking them in their apartments in the Varuna when he called ostensibly to obtain possession of letters which he had written to Miss Graham.

Stokes' story that the letters were sought by the girls, now that it is weakened, Miss Graham's friends say, by the admission of his own attorney, Terrence McLaughlin, that Stokes gave her $300 a short time before the shooting, when she called at his office, in the Ansonia, and demanded $500 for the return of the letters.

As Miss Graham demanded only $500 at this time, according to Stokes, and was refused, it is not probable that she would have been so easily satisfied with $300, the sum which Stokes alleges was asked of him when he appeared at the girls' apartment.

Mrs. Alice Andrews, the widowed sister of Miss Graham, will arrive here tomorrow from San Francisco, bearing, it is said, a substantial message from John Singleton, the prisoner's brother-in-law, who is a Los Angeles resident. Mrs. Andrews' mother, Mrs. Charles Nagel, and her stepfather, who at first turned against her, have since changed their opinion and will do everything they can to assist the unfortunate girl.

New Subscriber for The Playground Fund

Colin H. Livingston today joined the syndicate being formed to purchase the Mt. Pleasant playground at the northwest corner of Fourteenth street and Columbia road, making the eighth member. J. Henry Small, Jr., and Hugh Kelly were added yesterday afternoon.

It now begins to look as though the property could be saved for the public playground and park for the children and mothers of Mt. Pleasant. James E. West, secretary of the Playgrounds Association, today returned to the city for a few days, to secure a sufficient number of subscribers to buy the ground and hold it until Congress shall have passed the bill for its purchase by the Government.

Mr. West said today that national experts who attended the national playground convention here a month ago, pronounced the Mt. Pleasant ground one of the best in the United States. He says that its attendance is larger than any other in Washington, and that the proportion of small children with mothers using the ground sets a record for the country.

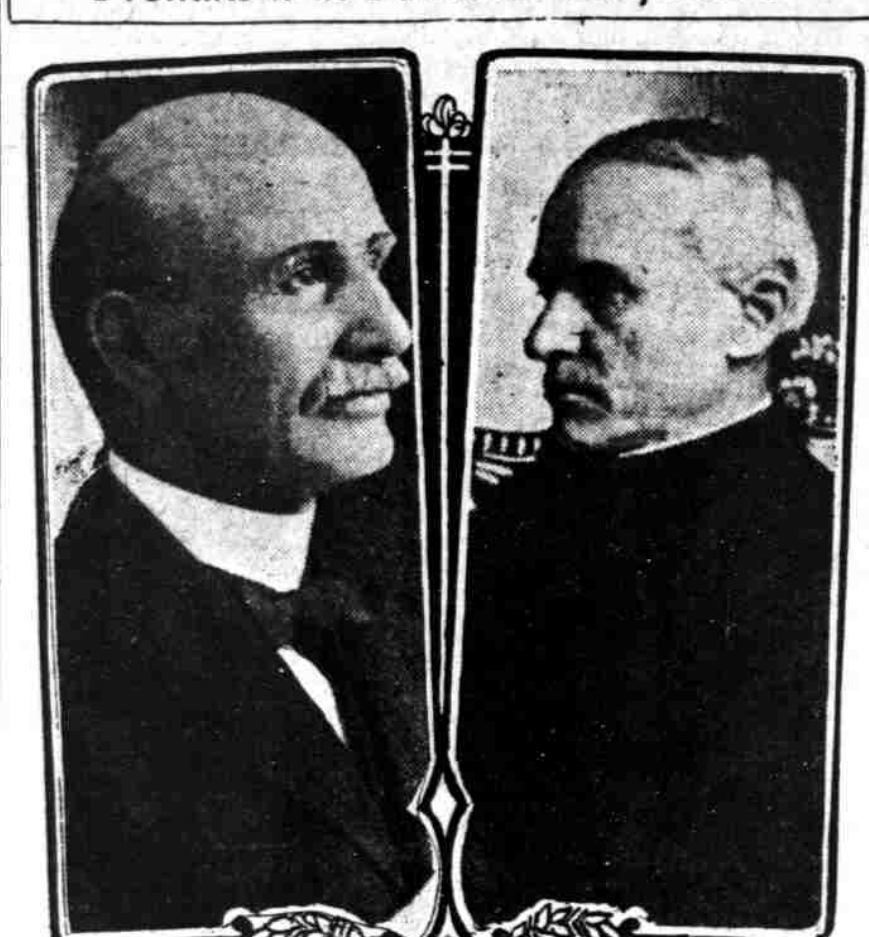

Mr. West's resignation as secretary of the Playgrounds Association will take effect with the taking over of the grounds by the Commissioners, July 1. He has accepted the position of secretary of the Boy Scouts of America, with headquarters in New York.

Prominent in Lutheran Conference

REV. DR. A. STEWART HARTMAN,
Of Baltimore, General Secretary of the Board of Home Missions of Lutheran Churches.

REV. DR. J. B. REMENSYNDER,
New President of the General Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran Churches in the United States.

LUTHERANS LEAVE TO DEDICATE HOME

Delegates to Convention Here Depart for Baltimore,
Where They Will Open New Mother House
Just Completed.

The morning session of the fifth day of the forty-fifth biennial convention of the General Synod of the Lutheran Church, at the Luther Place Memorial Church, was taken up with the reading of reports.

As noon the delegates left for Baltimore, where they will give a dinner by the sister of the deaconess mother house and then attended the dedication of the new mother house at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The women of Baltimore will give a reception to the delegates this evening.

The hymn book publishing committee was the first to report, and they announced the rearrangement of the hymn book for the common service was completed and that the hymn books were now on sale. The committee handed a profit of $2,253.25 to the treasurer of the synod.

Approves Brotherhood.
The work of the Federal Council of Lutheran Brotherhoods, who held their first annual convention here last Monday and Tuesday, was then considered and the convention stamped the work of the brotherhood with its approval, and within three minutes voluntary contributions were made by delegates to publish the report of the convention of the brotherhood, and its manual, for distribution.

The new board of managers of the brotherhood was increased from twelve to twenty, and out of 250 brotherhood organizations in the church it was announced 140 were regularly active. The recent Easter campaign, Ky. made an interesting address on the brotherhood work.

The laymen's movement was then considered by the committee on the report was read by H. L. Hess, secretary of the movement in the Lutheran church.

He said there were committees on this movement in 700 churches, and a very active work was being carried on. The recent Easter campaign was the most important thing yet done in connection with this work.

Gets Floor.
The privileges of the floor were then extended to J. L. Clark, of Ashland, Ohio, chairman of the committee on the laymen's movement, he spoke of it as a financial movement and urged the importance of its business side be considered. He spoke of the good results accomplished by the duplex envelope system.

A motion was passed to appoint a joint committee of fifty for this work, seven of the members of this committee are to be the executive committee of this general conference.

In accordance with the recent appeal of the Episcopal church, a committee to consult with other denominations on proposed unity was named. The committee consists of the Rev. J. S. Simon, the Rev. W. W. Hama, the Rev. L. M. Zimmerman, and the Rev. F. A. Heilmann.

The lay members of this committee are W. A. Granville, A. F. Fox, and Harry Smith.

The synod then practically re-elected the old members of the Home and Foreign Mission Boards.

The application of the Guntur, India, synod, for admission to this synod was rejected, and the Guntur synod was asked to send a commissioner to this body. The Guntur application for membership was not acted on favorably for the reason that its membership is confined to the ministers of the Lutheran church, while the membership of this synod is composed of both ministers and laymen.

It was decided that the missionary work in South America be carried on by the Home Mission Board and the Women's Home and Foreign Missionary Society until the report of the committee on South American missions is received by the next synod at the biennial meeting.

Off for Baltimore.
At the conclusion of the morning session the delegates left over the Washington, Baltimore and Annapolis electric railway line for Baltimore, to be present at the dedication services of the new Deaconess' Mother House, which has just been completed at 2500 and 2600 West North avenue, Baltimore.

On their arrival at the mother house dinner will be served the delegates, for admission to this synod was rejected, and the Guntur synod was asked to send a commissioner to this body. The Guntur application for membership was not acted on favorably for the reason that its membership is confined to the ministers of the Lutheran church, while the membership of this synod is composed of both ministers and laymen.

The new home is four stories high and has a rear extension containing a chapel and dining hall. It is built of Port Deposit granite, and is attractively situated in the midst of a lawn of eight and a half acres.

ORPHANS EAGERLY AWAIT THURSDAY FOR ANNUAL RIDE

Captain Johnston, Pleased
With Responses From Automobile Men.

By HARRY WARD.
The orphans of this city are counting the hours between now and next Thursday, when the members of the Automobile Club of Washington will give them their annual ride.

Capt. "Ted" Johnston and his assistants are busily engaged in rounding up cars for the event, and it is likely that when the parade starts from the Peace Monument about 1:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon more than 100 automobiles, loaded down with happy little tots, will be in line. Should the weather be unfavorable the trip will be postponed until the next day.

"I am much pleased with the way the motorists are responding to the appeal for cars," said Captain Johnston, "and the outlook is that orphans' automobile day this year will be the biggest thing the club has ever attempted."

Congratulations today are being showered upon Bruce Emerson for the record he hung up yesterday in driving a Detroit electric one-ton truck to Baltimore and return on one battery charge.

The total distance covered was seventy-nine miles, and the time was eight hours and ten minutes. The car started from the salesroom of Emerson & Orme yesterday morning and arrived at the corner of Baltimore and St. Paul streets in the Monument City shortly before noon. The return trip was made in slightly over four hours, and the meter showed there was sufficient current left in the batteries to drive the machine several miles farther.

No mechanical troubles of any kind were encountered by the machine, which was equipped with solid tires, there was also an absence of tire trouble. The run was made under the observation of newspaper men, and is said to be one of the hardest tests to which an electric commercial vehicle has ever been subjected. The machine carried 1,000 pounds of merchandise. Two Baker electric pleasure cars and the Detroit electric truck now hold the round-trip record from Washington to Baltimore on one battery charge.

The national automobile racing circuit has been abandoned and no efforts will be made by the contest board of the American Automobile Association to carry it through during the 1911 season. The three A's explanation of the fiasco is as follows:

The original intention of the proposed circuit was to provide a series of automobile contests following each other in logical sequence, both as to date and geographical location, and to provide a minimum of participants in each contest at a minimum cost of transportation. Discussion with the race tracks, however, failed to provide a series of contests, and the contest board has decided to abandon the circuit.

The summer meeting of the Society of Automotive Engineers will be held at Dayton, Ohio, June 15-17. The Washington members of the society are Logan Waller Page, W. H. Conant, L. A. Hill, and Dempster M. Smith.

George W. Bennett, general sales manager of the Wally-Overland Company, has just added to his corps of assistants C. S. Jameson, formerly sales manager of the Stoddard-Dayton Motor Car Company, and said, formerly, advertising manager of the Regal Motor Car Company. Both are widely known in the automobile world.

"Billy" Sunday, the noted evangelist and reformed baseball player, will hereafter travel by automobile, and during his tour of the South he will be accompanied by a star baseball player before he became a preacher. His work takes him from the South to the North, and he now travels in an automobile instead of using the railroad trains.

Philadelphia Banker Ends Life in Jump From Bridge

PHILADELPHIA, June 10.—Henry S. Sherman, assistant treasurer of the Savings Fund Society of Germantown, committed suicide today by hurling himself from the Walnut Lane bridge, in Fairmount Park, to the stone-covered road 175 feet below. He struck the ground first, completely crushing his skull.

Heads of the bank, when informed of the official act, issued a statement, in which they declared Sherman's affairs were in absolutely first class condition, and attributed his suicide to a breakdown following several weeks of strenuous work. He had been promoted from paying teller to assistant treasurer only a week ago.

Strikers Are Clubbed By Cleveland Police

CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 11.—All police reserves were today placed on duty at the factories that are being picketed by the striking garment workers, as the result of two riots yesterday.

Although the garment workers had announced that their strike was to be conducted without violence, they began yesterday to bombard factories where employees were still at work.

The police were called out, and in a half-hour battle that followed Russell Dilworth was shot in the knee by a policeman, and a score of other strikers injured by the clubs of the officers or struck by their own flying missiles.

HURT IN RUNAWAY NEAR ANACOSTIA

Boy Crushed Under Body of Coupe When Wheel Comes Off and Vehicle Turns Over With Four Persons Inside.

WASHINGTON TIMES BUREAU.
ANACOSTIA, D. C., JUNE 10.

Through the timely action of Sgt. G. B. Cornwell and Policeman J. W. Jones, both mounted, attached to the Eleventh precinct, who risked serious personal injury when a runaway horse was fought to a standstill on Good Hope road last evening about 5:45 o'clock, and the four occupants were released from a conveyance to which he was harnessed and in which they were trapped when the vehicle turned over.

Those rescued were Mrs. Lula Arenas, twenty-four years old; Mrs. Lizzie Crouch, her mother, aged fifty years; Bernard Arenas, Jr., two and a half years old, and Fannie Arenas, a child of eighteen months. Bernard, the husband and father, was in a store when the horse ran away.

Sergeant Cornwell was standing about thirty yards from the horse when it became frightened by a boy who was riding a pony. The reins were hanging carelessly from the driver's seat, and the horse dashed, kicking and lunging. Sergeant Cornwell rushed to meet it and seized the horse by the head. The occupants were screaming and trying to reach the reins, but the women were encircled in the coupe. While the sergeant struggled with the horse one of the wheels of the coupe broke, and the vehicle was overturned.

By this time Policeman Jones had arrived and assisted Sergeant Cornwell to extricate the occupants. The occupants were still inside the conveyance, unable to extricate themselves, except the two-and-a-half-year-old boy, who was partly hurled through a door. The coupe was resting on its body as he lay screaming on the road. The policeman, with the aid of citizens, was able to hold the horse and release the child, from whom blood was flowing.

Mr. Thomas D. Mudd was summoned from Anacostia. Mrs. Crouch was hysterical, but was not seriously hurt. Mrs. Arenas was injured about the body and was suffering from shock. Fannie Arenas, the youngest child, was likewise bruised and cut.

The ambulance of the Casualty Hospital, and the patrol wagon from Anacostia were called.

The injured woman hurried to the Casualty Hospital, where it was discovered that Bernard was seriously hurt. His right leg was broken and he was bleeding from numerous cuts. The others were found to be suffering from cuts and abrasions, none of them serious. The horse was cut in several places, and the conveyance was a wreck. The parties in the accident live at 101 Branch avenue, beyond East Washington Heights.

Raymond Moran, thirteen-year-old son of Mrs. Katherine Moran, who was shot and killed by Albert Schule, in St. Louis, Mo., several days since, following their departure from Anacostia, has been conveyed to the residence of Mrs. Alice Moran, mother of Arthur Moran, the boy's father, at 739 Thirteenth street southeast, Washington. Arthur Moran brought his boy and the body of Mrs. Moran to Washington from St. Louis Thursday. The body was taken in charge at the depot by an Anacostia undertaker and buried in Rock Creek Cemetery.

The funeral was attended by Mrs. Thomas, the mother of Mrs. Moran, and several other relatives from this place. It is understood Raymond Moran will remain with his father, at his grandmother's home.

No arrangements were made to bring the body of Schule, the slayer of Mrs. Moran, back to Anacostia, where the body was taken care of by the St. Louis authorities disposed of the body, which was done.

Enough information has come to the Washington Police Department regarding the kidnapping of Oscar Potter, six years old, an inmate of the Episcopal Home for Children, in Anacostia, who was taken away some weeks ago, while playing about the Ketchikan Public School, to confirm the report that Arthur Duguid, who claims to be the boy's father, and who has revealed in a letter written from Norfolk, Va., that he was the boy's principal abductor and has taken the lad to the home of Duguid's mother, in Vanceville, N. C.

Those familiar with the case believe that Duguid's mother will insist on keeping the boy, and that she will rear him under good influences.

STEEL PLANT GAINS, NAVY YARD LOSES, IN NEW BOAT SCHEDULE

Alexandria Line to Include
Giesboro Point in Route,
Cutting Off Early Trip.

Ferry service between Washington and Giesboro Point, where the steel plant of the Fifth-Sterling Steel Company is located, and between Alexandria and Giesboro, is to be inaugurated by the Washington-Alexandria ferry June 15. This announcement was made by D. J. Callahan, general manager of the company today.

Since the ferry, Alexandria, was put in service several months ago, it has been plying directly between this city and Alexandria, no stop being made at the steel plant. The new schedule contemplates making a stop there on every trip.

Officials of the ferry company have found some difficulty in arranging a satisfactory schedule. The managers of the steel plant have kept a standing offer of a bonus of $2,000 if the schedule were arranged to suit the needs of the plant. On the other hand, pressure was brought to bear by Alexandrians in behalf of about seventy-five employees of the Washington Navy Yard, who live in Alexandria. At their suggestion a trip leaving there at 6:45 in the morning was put on. This trip will now have to be abandoned to permit the operation of the new schedule. On the other hand, about 250 employees of the steel works in Washington want the ferry service. These will be accommodated by the change.

There is some concern in Alexandria over the proposed change, it being feared there that the city will lose 40 Washington Navy Yard employees, who would be either to use the trolley lines to work or move to this city.

MEMORIAL SERVICE PLANS COMPLETED BY ODD FELLOWS

Members of Order in Alexandria to Meet in Grace Episcopal Church.

WASHINGTON TIMES BUREAU.
ALEXANDRIA, VA., JUNE 10.

At a meeting of Potomac Lodge of Odd Fellows held last evening, it was decided to set Sunday, June 18, as the day for memorial services to the brethren of the order who have died in the past year. The services will be held in Grace Episcopal Church at 8 p. m., the sermon to be delivered by the Rev. Edgar Carpenter. A committee was also appointed to confer with Serepta Lodge, which will also participate in the services, for the furtherance of other arrangements.

Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: Noble grand, J. F. Ferever; vice noble grand, George R. Smith; recording secretary, W. E. Conaway; financial secretary, W. E. Latham; treasurer, L. Morgan Davis. Installation of officers will take place at the first meeting in July.

A committee was also appointed to confer with Serepta Lodge for the purpose of making arrangements for the annual excursion to Colonial Beach to be held this summer.

The third degree of the order was exemplified to two candidates, and two candidates elected to membership.

Hugging carefully to her heart an old tin can supposed to contain a "good luck" charm, given her by a "voodoo doctor," Lottie Jackson, a colored woman, made an appeal to the police this morning for aid in securing the return of her money. It seems that Lottie, who says she "hails from down Manassas way," is well along in her thirties and has thus far been obliged to remain in a state of single blessedness, although not of her own accord. Telling this life story, she today sought out a "fortune telling woman," who promised not only to provide her with a helpmeet, but guaranteed that the union would be happy if she would use the charm she gave her. Lottie carried out the instructions but, seeing no immediate result, she was also disappointed. She was unable to give either the name or the description of the "voodoo" doctor, and the police are consequently at a loss to act.

The State corporation commission has granted a charter to the American Film Machine Company, incorporated of this city, with the following named officers, all of whom reside in Washington. President, Harry W. Fuller; vice president, Louis J. Simons; secretary, Lindley E. Sinclair; treasurer, Edwin S. Marlet; directors, maximum, $100,000; minimum, $15,000.

An amendment to the charter of the Rinehart Resilient Wheel Company, incorporated in this city, was granted, permitting them to increase their capital stock from $300,000 to $600,000.

John Trimmer, a prominent business man of this city, was removed to Providence Hospital, Washington, at which place he will receive treatment of injuries received in a street car accident some time ago.
